How's150 percent for a test score? That's what director of the Skylab 2 space shot and Skylab program said ofBean, Lousma and Garriott's work upon splashdown at early week.

The trio of astronaut-scientists spent almost 60 days in space, 24 million miles and are apparently healthier than a previous crew of Skylab 1 who were up or "out" only 28 days.

The record mission was said to have "provided the basis for a quantum jump in human knowledge," according to a wire from the President.

It looks like we'll need another set of encyclopedia to include what they have learned about man and space.

Juan Peron and wife were elected easily to the Argentine presidency and vice-presidency amidst a revolutionary-like atmosphere in Buenos Aires.

Things are apparently so bad that Peron could win about 60 percent of the vote, get his third wife elected V-P and return to power after 18 years at the advanced age of 77 and under a doctor's care.

He was ejected from Argentina in 1955 after a military coup, much like Allende, the Marxist, in Chile in recent weeks. Only Peron went into exile, his wife Eva staying behind to die in Argentina.

The Peronist movement put together splinter parties alternately counted from four to 12 to bring off the win.

If he were to die in office, his wife would succeed. Quite a wedding present.

City Adopts $384,806 Budget

The City Council adopted a record budget of $384,806.49 for the fiscal year beginning October 1. That figure includes budgets for the water and sewer departments.

The budget was adopted at a special meeting for a public hearing on the budget Tuesday evening. Other items on the agenda included supplying funds for the Little League ballpark and for the Cameron Community Center.

Largest income items to the city include the adjusted fund of $152,684.74 from assessed valuations of $8,097,337. This is an inrease in valuations from the 1972 figure of $7,790,763. Other income items include $16,000 franchise tax, $18,000 from police fines, $55,000 from garbage collections, and other including $24,027 transfer from water bonds, $13,952 transfer from sewer bonds and a whopping estimated $62,000 from the one percent sales tax.

Other income, in smaller amounts include such items as delinquent taxes, taxi permits, electrical and plumbing inspections, sale of cemetery lots, dog licenses, among numerous other sources.

Biggest expense is the street department with a budget of $77,612, up from last year. The cemetery budget totals $7,895 and the fire department totals $15,675. This is the same as last year and includes funds for new equipment.

The biggest increase is seen in the police department budget which goes from $53,500 last year to $69,-774. This will reflect an increase in salaries to certified police officers on the force. Present officers who are not certified have a year from time of employment to become certified and eligible for the higher salary.

Salaries for administration have been set at $26,653, the same as last year. Utilities will cost $15,000 and $51,900 is budgeted for the sanitation department. No funds are budgeted for new equipment, but the city is using revenue sharing funds for new equipment for street and sanitation departments.

Recreation department, including both parks, totals $2,824 and salaries for city attorney and city judge add $3,000. The Milam County Health Unit receives $1,440 and the Cameron Public Library $5,000.

Office expense adds $13,236.89 to the budget and miscellaneous expenses total $11,576. The contingent fund has been increased to $16,767.-50.

In other business, the council voted to give $1,500 toward construction of the new ballfield for Little League at Cameron Airpark. The council also acted on Mayor Gene Blake's recommendation that $2,400 be used from revenue sharing funds for the community center, for salary of a director. Fees for use of the center will go toward operation and maintenance of the center.

Supply And Demand Lowers Beef Prices

Agriculture's oldest law -- supply and demand -- is quickly filling the void left by federal price freeze statutes in major Texas livestock markets, and the result so far is lower prices all the way to the supermarket.

In the beef line, sirloin steak that sold for $2.29 a pound a month ago can be bought for $1.69 this week end. Similar savings are seen in other cuts of beef, with prices a little lower than they were some time back.

However, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with TexasAgricultural Extension Service, says it is "wishful thinking" to believe food prices will ever go as low as they were.

"If the supply and demand system is allowed to work," she said, "food should be as low as anything in our consuming lives."

Over the state, thousands of head of cattle, mostly "fat" cattle ready for slaughter, are now being brought to market by farmers who refused to do so under the beef price freeze which ended September 12.

Charlie Ball, executive vice president of the Amarillo-based Texas Cattle Feeders Association, estimates 850,000 head of cattle were held back during the freeze, and are now on their way to stockyards.

The biggest result of the increase at cattle yards is simply the oldest rule of economics: the greater the volume, the lower the price.

So far, the stockyards themselves are benefitting from the first drop in prices, but their good fortune is being slowly transmitted to grocery store meat shelves.

"The wholesale cost of meat (to the packer) is not decreasing as fast as the cost on the live market (the stockyard)", said George John, director of meat operations of Affiliated Foods, Inc. of Amarillo.

But, he said, "within another week, the wholesalers will be reflecting an even lower cost, especially in beef and pork."

"Now that the law of supply and demand is free to function the price of live cattle is declining. Feeders want to sell cattle. Packers want to process more cattle. And the supermarkets want to sell more beef. We believe that demand and consumption will rebound quickly."

The law of supply and demand has also affected the poultry market, bringing prices down from a high of 89 cents a pound to 45 cents this week.

Lions To Hear Dist. Governor

Freddie Wolters of Bryan, Governor of District 2-S3, Lions International, will speak to the Cameron Noon Lions Club at its regular meeting at 12 noon, Monday, October at The Texas Restaurant.

October 6 Is Deadline For Registration

October 6 is the deadline for registering to vote in the November 6 general election, according to Valter White, Milam County tax assessor-collector.

A person must be registered 30 days before any election, according to state law.

Voters who have a certificate issued since October, 1971, do not have to register again.

If a voter has lost his registration certificate or has changed address since the certificate was issued, he shouldnotify the tax office in Cameron.

Application for new registrations may be obtained at the Milam County tax office in the courthouse at Cameron.

Buckholts Homecoming

Buckholts High School has rescheduled its Homecoming for November 2 at 7:30 p.m. The Badgers willhost the Oglesby Tigers in the district game that night.

Manpower Shortage Slows Street Work

A shortage of manpower is making some of the Urban Renewal street work slow down, according to the director, but citizens are asked to be patient with dusty, torn-up conditions of the streets because they will eventually be paved.

A. W. McCullin, UR director, said work is moving along well on tearing up asphalt and preparing street bases for paving, but curb and gutter and sidewalk work is a bit slowed down because of a shortage of help.

"We're letting the mail area go for now in order to put all efforts on the streets, which have a March completion date planned." McCullin told The Herald.

Workmen have removed asphalt on N. Houston Street and grading and gravel work are being done while sidewalks are a slower proposition. That work must be completed before streets can be paved.

McCullin said work on storm drains is also slowing because of a labor shortage. Present drain inlets are being enlarged and new ones are being added to help drain water out of the downtown area.

All new water lines have been laid in and work on them has been completed.

McCullin said Texas Power & Light Co. is working on removing and consolidating power poles in the downtown area, and Southwestern Bell will complete its work when TP&L finishes, since the two utility companies will share poles in the area. This will eliminate some of the poles in the area.

McCullin said street work is being planned to eliminate as much as possible inconvenience for downtown businesses and shoppers.

Car Hits Train

A car-train collision at the railroadcrossing at Thorndale resulted in injuries to a Thorndale man about 4p.m. Saturday.

Injured was Charles Wuensche, ownerof Ideal Motor Co. in Thorndale. His car was in collision with a westboundMissouri Pacific freight train.

Wuenschewas taken to Johns Hospital at Taylor and then transferred to an Austin hospital.

DPS Patrolman Larry Hester of Rockdale investigated the accident.

DPS Patrol Reports

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 33 accidents on Milam County highways during August, according to Sgt. Fred Hurst, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

The 33 accidents have resulted in no deaths and 22 injuries for August 1973.

These figures result in a total of 179 accidents with no deaths and 87 injured in Milam County during 1973.

Minerva Homecoming

Some150 to 200 persons are expected to attend the annual Minerva Homecomingset for Sunday, October 7at the Minerva Community Center. All should bring a basket lunch and plan to have a good time renewing friendships. Everyone is invited to come.

Briscoe Adds His Efforts To Boy Scout Rallies

Governor Dolph Briscoe has set a goal of one of every three Texas boys being active in the Boy Scouts of America program by 1976. He is so intent on accomplishing this mark that he has personally taken command and become chairman of the 1973 Governor's Roundup for Scouting.

In the 39 unit Tejas district of the Heart O' Texas Council made up of Milam, Fallas and Robertson counties, that goal hopes to be reached in 1973, according to executive director Ron Derry.

"We have 450 boys enrolled at this time in Boy Scout Troops,Cub Scout Packs and Explorer Posts and have a goal of 803 set by December 31,11 he said. "That figure will mean one of every three boys in the area are active in Scouting. I am very optimistic that this figure will be reached if everyone cooperates as they have in the past."

Rallies are scheduled in most scout meetings during October to enroll new members. The boys themselves will be doing most of the recruiting, but if a prospective member has not been contacted, they are urged to attend. Rally dates will be published in area newspapers.

Each scout who recruits a new memberduring the Fall Roundup will win a beautiful patch which incorporates the seal of the state and designed1973 recognition.

Quintuplets Born To Local Woman, Die At Birth

Quintuplets born to Mrs. Johnny Lee Krenek of Cameron at Scott and White Hospital all died shortley after delivery Monday evening.

The25-year-old wife of an Alcoa production worker went into spontaneous premature labor and delivered the infants -- three girls and two boys -- beginning at 6:48 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Krenek , who had been taking fertility drugs, was reported in satisfactory condition.

The first infant, a girl, was born a 6:48 p.m., followed by a girl at 7:15p.m., a boy at 7:16 p.m, a girl at7:17 p.m. and a boy at 7:18 p.m.

The spokesman said the infants, estimated by attending obstreticians as about four months premature, all weighed less than one-half pound each and died shortly after birth.

The spokesman said Mrs. Krenek had been cared for by the Scott and White obstetrics staff before delivery. Determination of quintuplets was made last week and Mrs. Krenek was hospitalized as a precautionary measure, the spokesman said.

Hoax Call Sends Emergency Units To Airpark

Cameron and Milam County law enforcement personnel and city emergency crews were called out Tuesday night to Cameron Airpark for an emergency plane landing which proved to be a hoax.

A call from a man who said he was "Bill Mullens" came to the police department at 10:15, reporting that a plane with nine passengers on board would have to make an emergency landing at Cameron.

Police responded, along with two fire units, all available ambulances, and other emergency vehicles, plus officers from the highway patrol and the sheriff's department.

Several hundred spectators also went out to the airpark, and cars lined the highway near the facility.

No plane appeared, and everyone went home about 11 p.m.

COUNTING TRAFFIC - Two Texas Highway Department employees relax in their van and count traffic on Fannin and Highway 36. The city has requested that the Department install a traffic light at the intersection at the 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. count will help determine the answer to the request.

Mileage, Not Age...

Any organization which founds six others is worthy of praise, not only among its membership, but among the community at large.

So Cameron Lions Club's 50th anniversary celebration is deserved. It recognizes not only the business and professional people who have kept it going, but it cites what they have done for the area in which they function.

Rosebud, Rockdale, Hearne, Milano, Calvert and Evening Cameron clubs were extended by this Cameron Lions Club (noon). This actually means hundreds instead of dozens of men involved in improving the area.

Over 50 years, such development touches thousands of men who are members or related in some way to this service function. And over 50 years, it touches tens of thousands of lives.

Congratulations, Cameron Noon Lions, age 50, from your Hearld, age 114. One old friend can tell another: It's not the age, it's the mileage.

Is Fala Next?

An international accountant for the New York Times has determined that President Nixon paid apparently little income tax during the periods he purchased his California and Florida homes.

And General Services Administration, a cost-accounting branch of the federal government, has found the government spent $600,000 on a 1962 JFK visit to America's Cup Yacht races.

The Nixon home purchases have been investigated and in effect connected to GOP political funds left over from the 1968 campaign for personal homes, which the Times Accountant said, based on available information, is not likely. He said the President evidently paid relatively little income tax. those years, using his income and loans.

A GSA official in Boston also noted $1 million was spent on two homes called the Kennedy Compound at anAir Force base near Cape Cod where the assassinated president landed to visit the family home at Hyannisport.

The official found nothing wrong with the $600,000 spent on security nor with the $1 million spent on the homes though he felt President Kennedy while in the White House seldom stayed there.

If this kind of inquiry is an extension of Watergate proceedings, we are not far from exhuming the White House records during the Franklin Roosevelt era to see if any public money went for dog biscuits for -- who else?-- Fala.

After all, we are making everyone and everything in the White House suspect. How can we ignore the dog who used to sit with FDR during those fireside chats?

Hardesty Says TV Image May Be Only Illusion

By Bill Boykin

"The way a man comes across on television says absolutely nothing about his qualifications to govern" explains Bob Hardesty, Press Secretary to Governor Dolph Briscoe and former speech writer for President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hardesty, speaking before the Austin Advertising Club, said "On television, the way a person comes across all too often has little to do with what he is really like. What's of paramount importance is what he appears to be like. We are faced with a basic conflict of illusion versus reality."

Hardesty defended LBJ's "illusion that he was devious and secretive," stating that "it was under his (LBJ's) personal orders that there was no press censorship in Vietnam -- for the first time in the history of American warfare."

There was the "illusion that he was a southern racist, yet he was responsible for passage of every civil rights act since reconstruction," his former speech writer added.

Governor Briscoe "lives with myths that he is a businessman's governor, but he vetoed a bill which would have raised interest rates -- and the myth that he is a remote, inaccessible governor but he is the man who is probably more accessible to members of the legislature than any Governor in recent history."

"My remarks are not directed against the television industry and the fine people who work in it; this is something out of their control and is a fact of life.

"My point is obvious. We elect our public officials to run our government honestly, effectively and compassionately -- not to entertain us. We have ou Johnny Carsons for that," he stressed.

"Therein lies the tyran: of television. The more w as a people become used to the suave, polished entertainers and newscasters, the more we expect public servants to be like them. In this day of pre-packaged candidates and edited TV campaign spots, it takes a long, long time to see through a 'snow job.' The day we judge all our political candidates on style, rather than merit, we will all be the losers," he concluded.

LBJ WAS 'TRICKED'

In a UPI interview last week Sam Houston Johnson brother of LBJ, said "If anybody tells you that he didn't intend to run for a second term, they're very badly mistaken."

"He was tricked. He was led to believe if he withdrew he'd save thousands of lives. It had the opposite effect of what he thought it would," he added.

Sam Johnson is revising and updating the book, "My Brother Lyndon." He will tell in his book that LBJ "gave up politics for peace." The choice, he things, shortened his brother's life.

"Politics was his life. He gave up living when he gave it up. If He'd stayed on in the White House there's no telling how long he'd have lived."

NO MORE TELEPHONES

"Bend a key and bend a mind," says Uri Geller, Israeli psychic, who made an appearance before a skeptical Capitol press corps last week.

"There are other dimensions to life thun what we can see, fell and hear," Geller pointed out -- as he bent keys for reporters and explained other phenomena which occurs around him every day.

Geller gave the political reporters something to think about when he said Bell Telephone laboratory scientists were "slightly shook" when he performed some of his experiments in laboratory conditions for them.

"Perhaps they are afraid mental telepathy will put them out of busines," he said jokingly.

He successfully conducted telepathic experiments in other news rooms in Austin, but didn't succeed with the skeptical capitol reporters.

Some terms his unusual feats as "paracommunications" -- which may very well be used in some means by the news media within a few years.

Geller practices psychokinesis, telekinesis, teleportation and other unexplained uses of energy forces.

Astronaut Edgar Mitchell heard about the young man in Tel Aviv, and has helped conduct the Stanford Research Institute experiments in the lab conditions.

Explaining that some people will never be convinced that he has unusual gifts, Geller said "There are people in the world who do not think the United States has landed men on the moon.

IMPROVEMENTS GIVEN

Eighty-one recommendations to improve legislative efficiency were revealed following a three-months' study, and House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. promised early implementation of some.

The Citizens Conference on State Legislatures completed the study and handed in its report, which included such proposals as annual legislative sessions, single-member districts for all lawmakers, a new rule book home district offices and $15, 000 annual pay.

Daniel applauded the reed immediate plans to begin a review of them with key House committee chairmen. Actually, the study applied only to the House, as the Senate refused to go along with the request for CCSL evaluation.

Larry Margolis, CCSL executive director, said implementing all the recommendations may cost as much as twice the present rate of legislative expenditures. However, he maintained, the legislature spends only two-tenths of one per cent of the state budget on its own operations , and proposed changes would lead to overall economies in other areas of government.

Among recommendations of CCSL were these:

That the legislature be authorized to call itself into special session at any time and set its own agenda; that staffs be increased; that lawmakers move heavily to computerized procedures in bill preparation and record keeping;

That microphones be installed at all 150 desks of House members; that only representatives be permitted on the floor during sessions and that news reporters be restricted to the "press box" (or special conference rooms for interviews) and that a type of public relations program be set up for representatives.

INSURANCE CUTS

A new competitive rate law will bring auto insurance rate cuts up to 20 per cent for many motorists, State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie announced.

Most of the 13 companies sought rate reductions for key classes of coverage ranging from 10 to 15 per cent.

Santa Fe Adding Equipment

Santa Fe Railway plans to spend about $90 million for locomotives and freight cars as part of its 1974 capital expenditure program, John S. Reed, chairman and chief executive officer, announced today.

Included are 54 new diesel locomotive units; 110 locomotive units which will be completely rebuilt at company shops; 1,838 new freight cars, and 73 freight cars scheduled for conversion and modernization.

The new locomotive orders include 27 3600 h.p. units from General Electric, plus ten 3600 h.-. and 17 2300 h.p. units from the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors. The railroad's shops at Cleburne, Texas, will rebuild 52 Diesel road units and convert them into modern 1500 h.p. road switcher units, while shops at other locations will rebuilt 25 2400 h.p. units 26 1500 h.p. units, and seven 1200 h.p. switch engines.

The freight car program includes 1,557 new box cars of various types; 125 tank cars ; 100 gondolas for woodchip service; 35 Snap-Pac abd seven Stac-Pac cars for handling new automobiles; eight flat cars, and five cabooses.

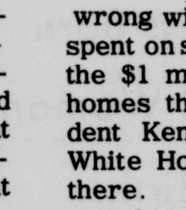
"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP



(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

WOULD UP GAS TAX TO EDUCATE DRIVERS

Rep. John M. Murphy (N.Y.) ". . . Cars will be made safe through the supervision of their manufacturers; but they will be made far safer through the education of their drivers. . .

"Presently approximately 50 percent of all drivers are receiving driver education prior to obtaining their licenses. This however, accounts for only a small percentage of the 115 million drivers in this country and takes no account of the 95 million nondrivers who, as pedestrians, are part of the shocking national death rate.

"Even those drivers with some education will quickly lose its beneficial results if the education is not constantly refreshed in their minds.

"My proposal, consequently, calls for a campaign of education and reeducation through the media. This program would center on thoroughly researched psychologically tested, expertly prepared 1-minute capsules. The purpose would not be to scare but, rather to inform. These "ads" would clarify for citizens a law that many of them may well be hazy on, as well as giving training on what to do in specific danger situations —driving on ice for instance. . .

"My program calls for more coverage than the media could provide under their public service, and I propose the following plan for the funding of this large program. I am calling for the addition of one-tenth of 1 cent Federal tax on each gallon of gas and other motor fuels . . . the tax will raise $85 million. There is virtually no expense entailed in the collection of the tax and need be little incurred in its administration.

"Therefore, almost the entirety of the fund can be used to obtain the goal of informed and safer driving. . ."

* * *

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

It's obvious that Rep. Murphy didn't spend the August congressional vacation among his constituents. First; taxpayers don't want any tax hikes. Second; they don't want an increase in television commercials. Explaining that the administration of his program would entail little expense shows that he is unaware of the ingenuity of Washington bureaucrats to 'make work."

Destroy Cotton Stalks Early

By Bill McCutchen

Don't delay in destroying cotton stalks as this can be a big help in cutting down cotton boil weevil problems next year. When I speak of destroying stalks this does not mean shredding only, boil weevils are capable of feeding and getting enough fat from the resprouts to go into diapause.

As soon as the cotton is stripped shred and disk or plan cut the stubble to prevent any regrowth.

If you haven't defoliated cotton consider adding Guthion or Methyl Parathion to your acid to help control next years weevil crop. The more you keep from going into diapause the easier control will benext spring.

Farmers in the Maysfield cotton are planning to conduct a diapause weevil control program throughout that area. This would mean an insecticide application at defoliation and one about 5 to Cole, Area Entomologist, says tha an area which uses a control program like this can be a real help in cotton pest management the following year.

Fall Armyworms Active

Fall armyworms have been with us since the first of July and recent rains greening up bermuda pastures, lawns, forage sorghums and small grains have caused populations to build again.

Frequent and careful inspection should be made to detect the worms before extensive damage occurs.

When hatchted, the worms are less than one-half inch long and are white with black heads. At maturity they are about one and one-half inches in length and may range from pale green to almost black in color with several light stripes along the body. One odentifying marking is an inverted "y" on front of the head.

If control is necessary, I would suggest contacting the County Extension office for recommendations.

Brucellosis Regulations

Texas livestock producers will be faced with new regulations on brucellosis control following a state wide public hearing in Austin on October 1.

The changes are being proposed by the Texas Animal Health Commission so that Texas will be able to move toward a "certified-brucellosis free status" and thereby be able to comply with the standards of other states to which cattle are shipped.

Major changes in the brucellosis testing program are as follows:

1. Testing of all animals two years of age and over at local auction markets rather than just testing those that terminate at slaughter.

2. Maintaining cattle in groups until they are tested and found clean or are quarantined, with testing expense to be paid by the seller.

3. Herds found to have the disease will be tested until they have two negative tests, not to exceed 120 days apart.

4. Retesting must be done within 60 days.

5. Animals may move from ranch to ranch owned by the same individual within a county or similar certified area without testing.

6. Animals moving and changing ownership must be tested. Numerous other conditions and procedures are also specified in the proposed changes.

I would invite Milam County livestock producers to attend the public hearing in Austin on October 1 to obtain further information on the program and to voice any concerns they may have about the proposed changes.

Cow Clinics Set For November

Beef cattle producers in East Texas and surrounding areas should mark their calendars for November 29 in Clarksville and November 30 in Huntsville. These are the dates for two Build East Texas Cow-Calf Clinics. In Clarksville, the program is set for the Avalon Theater and in Huntsville the Lowman Student Center on the campus of Sam Houston State University will be the site of the clinic.

"The two locations make the clinics easily accessible to all producers in East Texas," according to Dr. Randall Grooms, area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Cattlemen assisted in planning the clinics, and we are attempting to make the presentations practical and useful to producers throughout the area."

Outstanding speakers on round forage production, herd development and bull selection are being contacted for the clinics. Additionally, East Texas cattlemen will tell how they have successfully carried out improved production and management programs. The programs are designed for all beef cattle producers, regardless of their herd size.

Each day's program is scheduled from 9 a.m. until approximately 4 p.m. The five dollar registration fee for each clinic includes a copy of the proceedings.

This 4-H'er checks the automatic feeder in a large bird laying house as part of his work in the 4-H poultry program. Young people in the Cooperative Extension Service supported program learn various aspects of poultry raising-growing, keeping their birds healthy and improving marketing techniques. And encouraging these young poultry producers is Kentucky Fried Chicken, donor of awards in the program, for the first time in 1973.

Shrimp Harvest Sets Record At Corpus Christi

Texas shrimp production record was more than doubled during a recent preliminary harvest from shrimp demonstration ponds at Corpus Christi.

This harvest at the Barney M. Davis Power Station determined that shrimp could be gathered using the experimental harvest system in operation at the project, noted Dr. Jack Parker, Texas Agricultural Extension Service mariculture program coordinator.

The first full-scale harvest of shrimp at the project is planned for October, he added.

Dr. Fred Conte of Corpus Christi is project supervisor and mariculture specialist for the Extension Service.

"We took 2,020 pounds of shrimp from the half-acre pond, which computes to 4,040 pounds on a per acre basis. This more than doubled the Texas record of 1,836 pounds per acre set in a cooperative project at Angleton last October," said Conte.

"Based on what we learned at Angleton last year, we doubled the stocking ration from 50,000 to 100,000 quarter-in-long shrimp. Our survival at Corpus Christi was 83 percent compared to 67 percent at Angleton, but our sprimp were slightly smaller, measuring 63 tails to the pound as compared to 58 tails to the pound at Angleton," Conte explained.

The shrimp, which had been in a succession of three ponds for 140 days, were drained into catch nets through a 12-inch pipe.

The shrimp project is a joint demonstration between the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, supported through the Sea Grant Program of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, in cooperation with Ralston-Purina Co.

Hereford Sale Set

"The best offering yet of quality Herefords will be on exhibit at this year's annual sale of the Capital Area Hereford Association on Saturday, October 6," according to Temple Kennedy, president. Sale time is 1 p.m. at the Cen-Tex Livestock Commission Company in Giddings. Walter Britten, Bryan, will handle the auction gavel.

This twenty-third annual event features 77 head of carefully screened animals. A special committee of breeders inspected sale animals for quality last August. The 77 head will include 65 pen bulls, 11 single bulls and 1 female. Thirteen head are polled and sixty-four are horned.

The cattle will be judged at 9 a.m. on October 6 by Harold H. Henke, owner, Triple H Ranch, Fredericksburg.

Sale cattle will come from herds in the counties of Bell, Lee, Williamson, Lampasas, Hays, Burnet and Llano.

4-H Club Activities

Seven Milam County 4-H members are getting their beef heifers ready for the Heart O' Texas Fair in Waco, October 2-6.

Thorndale entries are Wynona Scroggins showing her Brangus calves; Mark Roddenbeck showing Blackie, his Angus heifer; John Caffey showing his angus heifer and Brangus heifer; Theresa and Stephen Beasley showing their Hereford heifers.

From the Buckholts 4-H Club, Debbie Glaser and Lisa Rubac have entered. Debbie will be showing her red Shorthorn heifer and Lisa will be showing her Charolais hefier.

These 11 beef heifers will be showing on October 4 starting at 1 p.m.

Cattle on Feed Up Again. . .Pecan Crop Two-Thirds Under 1972. . .Cotton Crop in Texas Largest in 11 Years.

Both in Texas and throughout the nation, cattle on feed are increasing in numbers. In Texas as of Sept. 1, there are 2,314,000 head of cattle and calves on feed. This is 10 per cent above a year ago and one per cent more than a month ago.

Nationwide, in the seven major cattle feeding states, cattle on feed are up one per cent from a month ago and six per cent more than a year ago.

Texas continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. The Sept. 1 total for Texas is almost 750,000 higher than second-ranking Iowa.

PECAN prospects for Texas appear poor. The Sept. 1 forecast from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is 23,000,000 pounds. This would be only 31 per cent of the record crop of 75,000,000 pounds produced last year.

The Texas crop will account for only nine per cent of the total U.S. estimated production this year compared to 41 per cent for the 1972 totals.

Pecan set is extremely poor in most areas of the state. A late freeze in April along with extensive insect damage in the larger pecan producing areas has created a dismal crop prospect for 1973. Only in the Trans-Pecos area and in counties in North Texas along the Red River has a good crop potential developed.

Nationwide, the 1973 pecan crop is forecast at 263,000,000 pounds. This is 43 per cent more than last year's short crop and six per cent above 1971. Prospects are above average in all states except Florida and Texas.

COTTON crop in Texas this season is expected to be the best since 1962. Production in the state is now estimated at 4,650,000 bales. This compares with 4,246,000 bales produced in 1972.

Yield based on Sept. 1 conditions is expected to average 406 pounds per acre compared with 408 pounds in 1972.

Harvest for the state has reached about 10 per cent completion. Cotton on the High Plains and Low Plains is making excellent progress. Crop potential on the Plains is above average.

Rains have hampered harvesting in southern sections and cotton root rot is a problem in the Blacklands.

BASED on Sept. 1 conditions, a record grain sorghum crop is forecast for Texas at 421,600,000 bushels. This would be more than 100,000,000 bushels above the 1972 crop.

Peanut production is now estimated at a record high in Texas of 502,400,000 pounds compared with 480,455,000 pounds in 1972. Yield is expected to average 1,600 pounds per acre. Acres estimated for harvest total 314,000 which is 7,000 more acres than the 1972 crop.

Soybean production for Texas is also estimated now to set a new record of 11,175,000 bushels. This would be more than twice the 1972 soybean production. Acreage this year is double that of the previous year. Average per acre yield is estimated at 27 bushels per acre.

Production of corn in the state this year is estimated at 60,800,000 bushels, an increase of 54 per cent over last year.

Wheat seeding for the state is now above 10 per cent, and is on schedule with last year.

Divers Probing Secrets Of Mighty Ghost Armada

By Barry Wheeler

PERTH

Reuter -- Rubber -suited divers are probing the secrets of a mighty ghost armada, lost for centuries off the coasts of this state.

Hulks of more than a thousand ships, including once majestic windjammers clippers and treasure-laden galleons plying the routes to the Spice Islands of the East Indies, lie ravaged by time and tide on the ocean floor.

Some hold the promise of fabulous treasure, others have inestimable archaeclogical value, while many more, below the translucent waters of the Indian Ocean, may throw light on legends of mutiny and piracy.

But any hopes entertained by later - day adventures of underwater freebooting have been well and truly scuttled by the West Australian state government.

All the wrecks have been nationalized, to preserve for the state a ready-made heritage. Any booty raised from the sandy graveyard automatically becomes the property of the state and after its historical worth has been evaluated goes straight into a maritime museum.

The museum itself maintains a marine archaeology department which is engaged almost exclusively in the raising of wrecks and their contents. The nine-man team of archaeologists and divers, occasionally complemented by university expeditions, first started its mission in earnest last year with excavation work on one of the most famous of the wrecks, theDutch ship Batavia.

The Batavia was one of the hundreds of English and Dutch ships which sailed from Europe around Africa for the East Indies in the early 1600s.

Navigation in the 17th century was primitive - witnessed by the fact that over 1,000 vessels are wrecked off the western Australian coast. The unwieldly galleon type ships of that age were also very vulnerable to storms and cyclones.

But fate singled out the Batavia for a particularly cruel death.

One of the richest ships ever to sail from Amsterdam, the Batavia was dashed against a reef off the Houtman Abrolhos Islands 250 miles northwest of here on June 4, 1629.

Even before the wreck there had been a plot to seize the treasure ship and murder her commander. The mutineers ringleaders, Jeronimus Cornelius, immediately went on the rampage, ordering the deaths of 125 men, women and children survivors by throat-cutting drowning, stabbing with pikes and hacking with swords.

Retribution came swiftly and mercilessly. A rescue ship arrived, the mutineers were captured and then hanged from wooden gallows -- but not before the rescuers had indulged in some private blood-letting by torturing the conspirators and chopping off their hands to add a gruesome touch to the hanging ceremony.

The wreck was discovered and searched on the anniversary of its sinking in 1963, and has since yeilded coins, navigation instruments, personal belongings and pottery including a vase believed to have been illustrated by the Flemish Painter Rubens.

In the shallow guano soil of the nearby islands, skulls have been dug up bearing the marks of savage sword hacks.

The East Indiamen, according to the marine archaeology department, are probably the most exciting of the wrecks, dating back as far as 1622.

The British must march to the beat of a different drummer, as they call him a traveller.

PTA Pot Luck Supper

A change of pace for the Cameron PTA will be a 'Pot Luck' supper Tuesday, October 2, at Ben Milam cafeteria.

And your age counts. If you are age 20 to 35 you are asked to bring a salad or vegetable and desert. Those 35 and over are asked to bring a meat dish.

Tea and bread will be furnished.

A short business meeting will be held following supper.

Milano Young Homemakers Aid Community

It's been a busy week for the Milano chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas as they observe YHT Week.

The schedule of activities opened Sunday when members placed flowers in churches at Milano and continued Monday with emphasis on home and family. On Tuesday members visited area nursing homes, delivering candy and visiting patients. A covered dish luncheon at the Milano School brought members together Wednesday to plan projects for the coming year.

On Thursday (today) the Young Homemakers are taking food and friendship to shut-ins in Milano and Friday will be "Teachers Day" with special snacks at school for the Milano faculty.

The week's activities will conclude Saturday with a skating party for children of chapter members.

A full schedule is not unusual for the energetic Milano Young Homemakers. Organized 9 years ago, the group (which now numbers 18 active members) has raised funds through montly bake sales with contributions goings to the Rockdale Hospital Building Fund and to help buy a fire truck for Milano.

The current major project is to provide a park-play area in Milano. Use of a lot adjoining the Milano Methodist Church has been granted and fund raisings this year will be devoted to landscaping and purchasing play equipment.

The group is also active in the state and area Young Homemakers of Texas organization. At a recent meeting in Waco of 160 young women representing 28 YHT chapters in Central Texas, Mrs. Joy Walker of the Milano chapter was awarded an honorary membership in YHT and Mrs. Charlotte Yarbrough, Milano YHT president, was elected third vice president of Area VIII.

Milano chapter officers are: Mrs. Charlotte Yarbrough, president; Mrs. Carol Brooks, 1st vice president; Mrs. Trudy Telg, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Jeneva Paceley, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Barbara Stewart, historian; and Mrs. Tena Pratt, parlimentarian.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Kitch Wilson and children of Winnepeg, Mon. Canada have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wied.

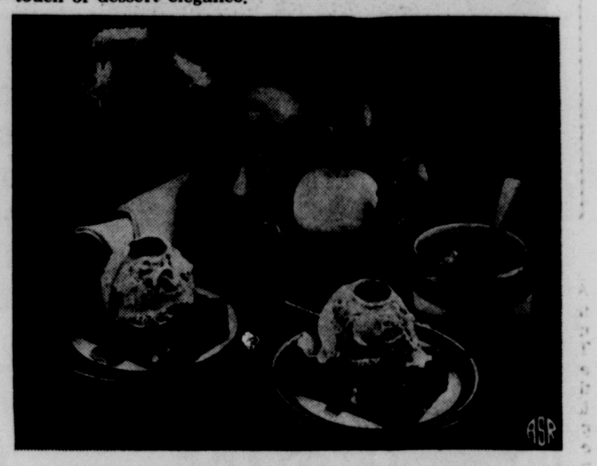
Benjamin Carter McDaniel, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike McDaniel, is reported in good condition at Children's Medical Center Dallas, following major surgery. Benjamin was born September 10 at St. Edwards Hospital. He weighed 9 pounds 13 - 1/2 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elroy McDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Moody all of Cameron.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Jekel Jr. were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Jekel of San Antonio.

October Spotlights Apples For Desserts Or Snacks

The versatile apple offers a never ending panorama of delightful recipes. October is National Apple Month, a wonderful time to discover the flavor magic of apples. Pick your choice of harvest time variety favorites and for yet another wonderful experience in flavor combinations, team the apples with caramels. They're irresistible!

Here's a dessert that no one, family or guests, can resist! It's no strain on the budget either. The brownies are quickly made from a package of convenient Fudge Brownie Mix. The apples and walnuts give them a very special flavor; and coffee ice cream, topped with caramel sauce, provides the crowning touch of dessert elegance.



Apple Fudge Brownies Ala Mode With Caramel Sauce

1 15½-oz. pkg. brownie mix
1 cup finely chopped apple
½ cup chopped walnuts
Coffee ice cream
* * * *
28 Kraft Caramels
¼ cup water

Heat oven to 350°. Prepare mix as directed on package for fudge brownies. Stir in apples and walnuts. Pour into greased 8-inch square layer pan. Bake at 350°, 35 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. For each serving, top brownie with a scoop of ice cream and warm caramel sauce.

Melt caramels with water in covered double boiler or sauce pan over low heat. Stir occasionally until smooth.

For more sweet surprises from apples and caramels, write for free recipe leaflet to: Caramel Apple Recipes, P.O. Box 6768, Dept. MR, Chicago, Illinois 60677.

Cheese Dip In Apple Cup

3 to 4 Washington State apples*
¼ lb. bleu cheese, softened
1 pkg. (8-oz.) cream cheese, softened
3 tablespoons sherry wine
2 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
Dash of garlic powder
Cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Blend cheeses with wine, bacon, garlic powder; add enough cream to make the mixture suitable for dunking. Carefully remove the core from one apple and hollow out, leaving a shell ¼-inch thick. Cut the top edge in pretty scallops, brush with lemon juice, fill with the cheese mixture. Cut remaining apples into crescents for dipping.

Salami Or Ham-Wrapped Apples

1 pkg. (3-oz.) cream cheese
1 tablespoon prepared hot mustard
Cream
1 teaspoon freshly-ground horseradish
8 slices ham or salami
2 Washington State apples*

Blend cream cheese, mustard, horseradish, adding cream, if necessary, to make cheese mixture spreading consistency. Cut each slice of ham (or salami) in half; spread with cheese mixture. Slice apples into eighths, roll a meat slice around apple; fasten with toothpick.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN

This morning's mail to the Attorney General's Office included a letter from a woman in one of our small Texas towns, who complained hat her 81-year-old mother -in-law had been misled by an insurance company promotion which was designed to look like a medicare mailout.

The printed material did state that the health insurance for which Social Security recipients can qualify (Medicare) does not cover all costs of all care and treatment procedures, and seemed to imply that the insurance company had a working agreement to pick up where Medicare leaves off.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which administers the Medicare program for the federal government does not have a working arrangement with any private insurance company. And both federal and state laws prohibit the deceptive trade practice of misrepresenting that there is any governmental endorsement of a private business venture.

The Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office took note of the complaint, then referred it to the State Board of Insurance for investigation or whatever action that agency might deem necessary.

The State Insurance Commissioner has the legal authority to call a hearing on any complaint of an insurance company activity if he determines that it may be a violation of the board's regulations on advertising practices.

In a little more than a year, these hearings on deceptive advertising practices have resulted in some 40 cease-and-desist orders having been issued by the commissioner.

Misleaders about Medicare have accounted for some of the hearings, since the state requires that insurance companies offering a form of coverage designed to supplement Medicare make it "clear and conspicuous" that that is all their insurance does. They must disclaim any affiliation with the federal government and Sociat Security.

To prevent other possible frauds upon the consumers, the advertising of any insurance plan must state the "negatives" in a given policy, as well as the benefits afforded. For instance, if a policy precludes benefits for a preexisting illness for two years from the date of the issuance of the policy, the advertising should show that.

If the policy includes in-hospital benefits, such as "$25 per day for each day in the hospital," but those daily benefits are not payable until after the first three days, the potential policy buyer should be put on notice.

Most insurance companies which operate in Texas do follow the state law and Board of Insurance guidelines meticulously.

Lutherans Set Three Meetings

"Thanksgiving and Recommitment" is the theme for a three day Key '73 emphasis meeting at Abiding Savior Lutheran Church at 12th and Jackson.

The first of the meetings will be held Sunday, Sept. 30 with a covered dish supper in the church beginning at 6 p.m. After the supper a film, "Reaching Out In Love," will be shown. It tells of the various work of the American Lutheran Church at home and throughout the world.

On October 1 Monday and October 2, Tuesday, the meetings will start at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. Bob Otterstad of College Station as speaker. Both choirs will sing and the meetings will be informal.

The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Cap To Offer Prize At Fair

A proverbial pot of gold awaits contest buffs, ESP experts and incurable optimists at this year's State Fair of Texas in Dallas. Mr. CAP, Colgate's cash-carrying mystery man, will again be among the three million visitors to the nation's largest annual exposition.

"Friends in my old hometown of Detroit, Texas, are contest believers now," commented Mrs. M. G. Mason, winner of $2,000 in the 1972 search for Mr. CAP. "They're coming to the Fair this year to try for themselves."

Mrs. John H. Bond, another of last year's big winners, reported that despite numerous temptations her money is still in a savings account. "It's a good feeling she said."

Starting October 6, opening day of the 1973 state Fair of Texas, Mr. CAP will be worth $2,000 as he wanders through Fair Park and the immediate vicinity. According to contest rules, the individual correctly identifying Mr. CAP must have in his possession a label or box top from one of the three participating Colgate-Palmolive products. The prize will increase by $100 each day until the mystery man is found and a new contest begins. Daily clues will be provided on radio station KLIF.

An additional $1,500 will be awarded at a drawing in the Cotton Bowl prior to the Army Tattoo program on October 21. Labels, box tops and hand-drawn facsimiles, deposited in special boxes located in and around Fair Park, are eligible for the drawning.

Detailed contest information will be announced prior to the Fair. State Fair employees and exhibitors and their families and previous winners in a Mr. CAP contest are not eligible for prizes. But for most fairgoers as for Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Bond last year, a once-in-a-lifetime experience is possible. All it takes is persisteance, a little luck and a day at the Fair.

Technology is abroad in the land. Everywhere big yellow and green machines pound and churn the earth. Highways unroll, apartment complexes rise and amusement parks expand.

Our children watch. They know power when they see it!

Some of our children, though, don't know about another power for building. They have not been taught to see it. It is the power of God and it also shakes and moves us. It is necessary for all men—a gigantic source of energy and strength.

Take your children to church on Sunday. They will be tomorrow's builders.

Yoe To Brace Cougars On Their Home Field

The Cameron Yoemen will take on the highly-ranked Rosebud-Lott Cougars this Friday at 8 p.m. at Cougar Stadium at Travis.

After accepting a 14-3 loss last year, you can be sure that the Cougars will be seeking revenge in this years game. However, the Yoemen after battling West to a 14-14 tie will be more than ready to grasp a victory.

Both teams possess hard-nosed ground gaining ball carriers and both teams have fine offensive lines to lead the way.

George Whiteside, perhaps the best back seen in Cameron for many years, will be leading Cameron's offensive attack. Whiteside has gained over 100 yards in two of the three games played this season.

On the other side of the line leading the way will be Rosebud-Lott powerhouse Kevin Scott, who has gained 195 yards against a powerful Rockdale defense and 198 yards against the West Trojans.

So far this season Scott has demonstrated why he was selected as a second team all-stater last year. However, Scott does not stand alone in the Cougar backfield, because fullback's Terry Tomlinson also gain his share of yardage, as was demonstrated against West when he rushed for 102 yards.

Ed Cauley, Cameron head coach, does not under estimate the ability of Kevin Scott and Terry Tomlinson. He feels that Rosebud-Lott is not any stronger physically, but that they are stronger because of the way they utilize their backs, running out of an I formation. When asked the question, What will Cameron have to do to beat Rosebud-Lott?, he replied "We will have to control the ball and stop Kevin Scott."

So far there hasn't been a defense that has been able to shut down the Cougar running attack, but if it can be shut down, the Yoe defense is just the one to do it.

BACK TO SCHOOL FOR MOM

Now that the kids are back in school and you have more time to shop, maybe it would be a good time to refresh some good shopping techniques. With practice, you can sometimes save $10-$20 per month by careful shopping. Pennies do add up!

Even though it has been said before, it does bear repeating – plan your meals, at least informally, as you read the grocery ad and make your shopping list. But be flexible enough to take advantage of instore specials.

If you have adequate storage, buy staples when they are offered at special prices before you run out. If you want to shop more than one store, be sure to figure out the cost of transportation and time, to see if it's really a bargain.

Compare cost and the number of servings, then decide if it is the best buy for your family. A good rule of thumb in selecting canned or frozen vegetables is one ten-ounce package of frozen food equals one sixteen-ounce can. If your family likes either equally well, buy the cheapest.

Use your own or the store's unit pricing method to figure the cost per serving. Simply find the weight of the item, convert it to ounces, then divide the number of ounces into the cost. The answer is the cost per ounce. To estimate the number of servings, remember that four to eight ounces of a fruit or vegetable is usually adequate nutritionally. In selecting meat, allow a quarter pound per serving of boneless meat; half a pound per serving of bone-in meat; and three-quarters of a pound per serving of bony meat. Nutritionally, a two to three ounce serving of cooked meat is considered adequate.

If you sharpen these shopping skills, Mom, it could save you money when doing the family shopping.
